

The Most Wonderful Christmas Moment

The most wonderful Christmas moment happened last year. Every year after we open our gifts at home we go to my Aunt Kelly's house. My cousins and I always have fun when I come over. The family does two different things. The adults stay inside. The kids go outside to play. The adults talk and prepare dinner. Ham hotdog wraps, jello, carrots, green beans, yams, are all put on the table by the kids. Two hours later the meal is done. After the meal, my wild four year old cousin jumped up and hit his head against the buffet table. Then we heard a CRASH! Everybody looked around and saw my four year old cousin covered in jello. He laughed and so every one burst out laughing.

That was the most wonderful Christmas moment ever.
