

My Most Memorable Christmas

Grandmothers are special people that make special memories. They are great people to learn from and receive care from them. My grandmother is a wonderful person she is funny, nice, and smart.

Grandmothers are special because they can do special things. For example they care for you, love you, and cherish you.

My most memorable Christmas was last year at my house when I woke up and saw my grandmother got me everything I wanted for Christmas. Thinking about it I realized that all those gifts did not matter. What mattered was that she cared. After that we went over to my aunts house and we had a great dinner. It was very fun. As a family we watched television and my cousin and I played video games. It was getting late and soon it was time to go home.

That is my most memorable Christmas with grandmother. My grandmother is a very fun person, and she is very helpful. I will never forget that Christmas for as long as I live.
